Generation No. 1

1. JACOB<sup>1</sup> HEADRICK, SR. was born Bet. 1790 - 1792 in Greene Co., Tenn., and died Bet. 1862 - 1864 in Murray Co., Georgia. He married MARY RICE 12 Feb 1823 in Blount Co., Tenn.. She was born Bet. 1798 - 1800, and died Bet. 1882 - 1884 in Murray Co., Georgia?.

Notes for JACOB HEADRICK, SR.:

PLEASE NOTE: THIS GENEALOGY IS A WORK IN PROGRESS. SOME OF THE ALABAMA LINES WERE ONLY ADDED RECENTLY. ADDITIONS WERE MADE AS MORE DOCUMENTATION HAS BECOME AVAILABLE AND PUZZLES WERE CLEARED UP. SOURCES ARE AVAILABLE, BUT NOT INCLUDED HEREIN (PRIVACY ISSUES). SOUTHERN MUSE HOPES TO PROVIDE AN EDITED VERSION OF SOURCES ASAP. This document has been published for the benefit of several collaborators who have asked to see my genealogy file. Like any family tree, it may contain errors. Study it at your own risk, particularly when using it to document your direct line.

"The Connection' in East Tennessee" lists Jacob Headrick as the son of John Headrick and Lizzie Myers. However, census and other documentable sources indicate a birth year of between 1790-92 (and sometimes even earlier) for our Jacob. He seems too old to be the son of John Headrick and Lizzie Myers. But surely he is some relation to these Headricks, judging by the proximity in census and the seeming interactions between the families. It is difficult to research these early Headrick lines.

For reference, following are a selection of Headricks found in census in Tennessee. In 1830, there is a Jacob Headrick in Jefferson Co., Tenn., as well as a Joseph. These are the Headricks located in on-line census searches of Tennessee. There may be others.

1830:

William Heddrix, Blount, Tennessee
Jacob Headdrix, Blount, Tennessee
William Heddrix (2), Blount, Tennessee
John Heddrix, Blount, Tennessee
Sally Heddrix, Blount, Tennessee (not as close by)
John Headrick, Cocke, Tennessee
John Headrick, Hawkins, Tennessee
Mansfield Headrick, Hawkins, Tennessee
Jacob Headrick, Jefferson, Tennessee
Joseph Headrick, Jefferson, Tennessee
William Headrick, McMinn, Tennessee
John Hedrick, Grainger, Tennessee
John Hedrick, Monroe, Tennessee
Elizabeth Hedrick, Sullivan, Tennessee
Isaac Hedrick, Sullivan, Tennessee
Jessee Hedrich Sullivan Co., Tenn.

Our Jacob married in Blount County. Murray County records show that our Headricks came from Blount County. Blount County deeds show no purchase or inheritance for "our" Jacob Headrick. Question: What, if any, is the relationship of our Jacob Headrick to nearby William M. Headrick, born 1800-1810 (married Susannah Borden in 1824), next door to Jacob Borden?

1840:

Daniel Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
Daniel Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee

Jacob Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
James Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
John Hedrick, Jefferson, Tennessee
Joseph W Hedrick, Jefferson, Tennessee
Peter Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
Thomas P Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
William Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
William W Hedrick, Jefferson, Tennessee

1850:

Daniel Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
Daniel Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
Isaac Hedrick, Knox, Tennessee
Jacob Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee [??]
James Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
John Hedrick, Jefferson, Tennessee
Joseph W Hedrick, Jefferson, Tennessee
Peter Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee
Thomas P Hedrick, Blount, Tennessee

Note: Jacob B. Headrick, of Walker County married Narcissa Katherine/Catherine Waters. He is the son of William and Anna; brother of Daniel Headrick who married Clarissa. Well documented ~ not our Jacob. [Pension proves that.]

John Scott Headrick's middle name never seems to appear in documents. However, the man who, in Murray County deeds, is called John 'The Scot' Headrick, is documented in later deeds on the same land as being the father of H.H. Headrick. If he is the same John who inherited a portion of Jacob and Polly (Rice) Headrick's land, though, I have not found where any of it was ever sold. That may be correct--quite a few Headricks still live up in northern Murray. They may be living on the old homestead. John and Rhoda Headrick did live with William and Mary (Emert) Headrick in one census, so that seems to be good support for William and John as brothers; though relationships weren't given in that census, as I recall.

Further research on this line of Babbs shows that Nancy may have died before 1847, because Joshua Babb then married Elizabeth (Evans) Vandergriff (if this is truly the same Joshua). After Joshua died, Elizabeth then remarried to Alfred Hicks, who had also been married previously. The ages of the children fit, and one on-line index of burials does show an Alfred C. Babb (died 1930, Ashland, Oregon), whose father was Joshua Babb and mother was "Mary" Hedrick, both of Missouri. (So far, this is the only Babb-Headrick line to be found; my conclusion is that "Mary" must actually be our Nancy Headrick.) The other Joshua Babb of Missouri, a soldier in the 5th Tenn. Army, was too young to be the same Joshua. He was born 1834-6 and married Ruthy Julian Crabtree.

[A census indexer helped put together the various marriages of Joshua Babb. I think this would be the correct line. She was born Bet. 1822 - 1823 in Sevier County, Tenn., and died 29 Jun 1906 in Murray Co., Georgia.

Notes for WILLIAM MATHEW HEADRICK:

Noted in Deb Smyre's database, some of the Shields family ended up in Honey Creek, McDonald County, Missouri. It might be worth checking for Headricks, who also were in Missouri, if only briefly, at an unknown period, possibly after the Civil War.

Notes for RHODA J. HEADRICK:

Rhoda Headrick apparently never married. Her tombstone says "Rhoda Headrick." I've never found a death certificate on her. (I did a written search in Georgia and Tennessee. I did not try individual counties, in case the death cert. exists, but was never filed with the state. Her death is not in Murray County's death index.)

Notes for JACOB TAYLOR HEADRICK:

Molly Kirkpatrick (wife of Daniel Joe Kirkpatrick), gave Jacob Taylor Headrick as the son of William Mathew and Mary Emert Headrick, and brother to W.A.L. Headrick. This has been confirmed by Jacob's death certificate (Gibson County, Tennessee, 1935, "Jocab" Taylor Headrick). The certificate lists his place of birth as "Maury" (Murray) County Georgia, and his parents as William Headrick and Mary Emmett. It is unknown how this branch of the family ended up in West Tennessee, but that area is very close to the southeastern tip of Missouri. There are indications that the Headricks have some unknown tie to Missouri.

Headricks buried at White Rose Cemetery in Gibson County, Tennessee, are: Anne Jane Headrick 1853-1931; Jacob Taylor Headrick 1850 - 1935; Walter Lee Headrick 1881 - 1975; Martha Worley Headrick 1880 - 1967; Onie Ethel Headrick 9-12-1893 - 3-6-1958; and James Earl Headrick 10-16-1894 - 8-9-1930 (all buried in row A25). Margaret Headrick Roberts 7-9-1927 and Claudius Max Headrick 1928 - 1929 are in row A26.

Please note that I had originally listed this individual as "Jacob J. Headrick," based on the 1860 Murray

County census. Possibly, I read the writing incorrectly. The census taker used great round flourishes. A "T" could possibly be mistaken for a "J." I have also seen Jacob P. Headrick as a variation of his name.

Notes for WILLIAM ABRAHAM LINCOLN HEADRICK:

Also known as "Willie," and "Craze." He owned a woodshop. He has been called a carpenter, a cabinet maker or a chair and coffin maker, so apparently he did all kinds of woodwork. He used a horsepower to run the tools in his woodshop. In his book, "Life Chart," E.C. Caylor describes the horsepower: "There was a big shed at their house, and in that shed was a wood working shop that was powered by horse power, like an old cane squeezer at a syrup making location. The horse was hitched to this beam and went around in a circle, and that powered the saw or wood lathe or what ever tool was being used." (p.26) W.A.L. Headrick also farmed, like most of the men in Murray County.

E.C. Caylor identifies the "Craze" Headrick farm as being about one-half mile east of the "Jiles" Dunn farm.

4. ELIZABETH<sup>2</sup> HEADRICK (JACOB<sup>1</sup>) was born Bet. 1827 - 1830 in Blount Co., Tenn., and died Bet. 1870 - 1930. She married WILFREY JAKE GREEN 19 Oct 1851 in Murray Co., Georgia, son of JEREMIAH GREEN and NANCY WILKINS. He was born Bet. 1824 - 1825 in North Carolina, and died 1866.

Notes for WILFREY JAKE GREEN:

Scant clue: one old genealogy gave his name as Ulysses Winfrey Green. If that is so, here's a clue, possibly helpful in locating grandchildren: Youlas Green Headrick, born to L.V. and P.J. (McQueary) Headrick of Collin Co., Texas (source birth certificate on-line at Footnote.com). L.V. Headrick, the father of Youlas Green Headrick, was born in Georgia, according to his child's birth certificate. I was already searching Collin Co., Texas, because some of Giles Dunn's offspring ended up in Altoga, Collin Co., Texas. Also, some of the male Greens do have the middle initial of "V." I was already searching for more info. on L.V. Headrick, based on some other document I found on-line. (I just have to try to remember why...) Send data to Lynda Gibbs Ellis. Notes for MARTHA JANE HEADRICK:

In the 1880 census, Jane is listed as the granddaughter of Mary Headrick, rather than the daughter. She is well documented in many other ways, though, so the 1880 census seems to be a mistake, either of the census taker or the informant.

6. ANN<sup>2</sup> HEADRICK (JACOB<sup>1</sup>) was born Abt. 1830 in Tennessee, and died Aft. 1870 in ? (See notes) ?. She married JEREMIAH CROWSON Bef. 1846. He was born 1823 in Tennessee, and died Bet. 1866 - 1923.

Notes for ANN HEADRICK:

Ann Headrick Crowson did not sign the 1866 property deed for division of Jacob and Polly Headrick's land. Her husband, Jeremiah, did. However, the census of 1870 shows that Ann was still living. The deed was not recorded until 1870, so Ann may have been deceased by then. It might help to look at Georgia property and inheritance laws of 1870, and find out what the guidelines were for transference of inherited property (who could sign, etc.) This suggested line of research is not based on any question of the propriety or impropriety of Jeremiah's signing of the deed, but is a clue in giving us a better range of death for Ann (Headrick) Crowson. The death range now, based on the documentation available, is between 1870 (date of last census documentation) to 1935 (date of reaching 105); with a clue of looking at 1870, to see if the date of record on a land deed might provide further clues.

Notes for JEREMIAH CROWSON:

An LDS file places Jeremiah, born 1823, as a son of Abraham Crowson, of Giles Co., Tenn., who was a brother of West Crowson. They both moved into Wear's Cove, Sevier County. Persons researching this family as a direct line might look in that direction.

7. JAMES<sup>2</sup> HEADRICK (JACOB<sup>1</sup>) was born 15 Jan 1832 in Tennessee, and died 14 Apr 1912 in Murray Co., Ga.. He married ELIZABETH DUNN Abt. 1856, daughter of WILLIAM DUNN and MARY SHIELDS. She was born 28 Aug 1836 in Tennessee, and died 14 May 1909 in Murray Co., Ga..

Notes for JAMES HEADRICK:

This James Headrick is supposed to be the son of Jacob Headrick and Mary "Polly" Rice.

This line is controversial. One problem is that there are several James Headricks, all born around 1831-1832. These various families were originally in Blount Co., Tenn., but moved to Murray County. One moved out to Missouri. One line out west that traced itself to our Murray County Headricks in error, and supposedly got published in a 1909 book. That error has since been corrected, according to one researcher. I studied the possibility that James and brother, William, moved out to Missouri after the Civil War and then moved back; but, I think it's more likely there was a mix-up with another pair of brothers of similar names. Some descendants of a Casper Headrick of Lumpkin Co., Georgia, were briefly in Murray County, and some descendants of Casper moved to Missouri. Also, some Headrick-Rhea lines of Blount County moved out west. Quite a few Headricks went west, but I have no indication that James and Elizabeth ever did.

At least one line of descendants is working on tracing an illegitimate line. These researchers have good documentation, but the circumstances, naturally, have led to a good bit of confusion. The good news is that researchers seem to be making good headway on fitting these puzzle pieces together. It would be better to consult the genealogies of descendants who are working on those direct lines. Recent lineages are not included here.

One particular problem of mine is G.B. or G.L. Headrick. Why must clerks always use initials? I believe that I have the correct marriage for Green Headrick, but there is room for error, especially since his middle initial doesn't always match up.

A similar John and brother, Levi, appear to be living in Prairie, Johnson Co., Arkansas, with a family by the name of Harris in 1880. The Harrises might be some kin to Will Harris, who married John Scott's daughter, Cora. It could be a coincidence--it could be some other John and Levi, though the ages are right.

Notes for SARAH E. M. HARDEN:
"Dinkie Chambers," Dink Harden, Ella Pierce, are some of the names associated here. The confusion is probably caused by multiple marriages and by some children taking on the names of stepparents.

Sarah E.M. Harden was born to John and Malissa Elizabeth (Dial or Deal) Harden. John died around 1864 or 1865 and Malissa remarried to John Chappel Chambers (apparently). Sarah and her siblings then took the surname of their stepfather, "Chambers," as it appears in census. Sarah reclaimed the surname of "Harden," as shown in the Murray County marriage record of John Headrick and Sarah E.M. Harden.

Notes for SIDNEY MALINDA HEADRICK:
Marriage data for Malinda Headrick: I have no descendant information, so I'm not sure of Malinda's marriage data. Deb Smyre's Genealogy database (on-line) has Malinda Headrick being married to William Harden and Charlotte Cabrera sent that same couple. Marilyn Kinne shows this, too. The James Headrick household of 1900 does show Ola Harden as a granddaughter (and Posey Headrick as a son).

However, there is another Headrick marriage that falls into the right era and could be researched as a possible spouse for Malinda: Dunn, William married Headrick, Mollie on 30 Jun 1889; Murray County, Georgia, marriage book VI, p.98. It would be nice to know which Headrick family this Mollie belongs to.

Notes for GREEN L. HEADRICK:

May have married more than once, or else there is confusion with his wife's names and nicknames. "'The Connection' in East Tennessee" lists two marriages (giving Ethel Officer Mantooth as a source): first, Ella Green; and second, Lizzie Dunn Johnson. Ella, Eliza, and Lizzie could all be nicknames for Elizabeth. Eliza's death certificate gives her parents as Bill Caylor and Jane Mullinax. This couple is as confusing as the siblings and their spouses.

8. JOHN SCOTT<sup>2</sup> HEADRICK (JACOB<sup>1</sup>) was born 14 Jan 1834 in Tennessee, and died 18 Nov 1915 in Murray Co., Georgia. He married RHODA DUNN 25 Mar 1860 in Murray Co., Georgia, daughter of WILLIAM DUNN and MARY SHIELDS. She was born 1840 in Tuckaleechee Cove, Blount Co., Tenn., and died 27 Jun 1906 in ?Murray Co., Georgia?.

Notes for JOHN SCOTT HEADRICK:

Problems with John "Scott" Headrick: land deeds actually refer to him as John "the Scot" Headrick, seemingly indicating that he could be of Scottish ancestry. [Our Jacob is supposed to be a "Dutchman" (prob. German); wouldn't John also be one?] Also, don't some census records give Virginia as John's (and his parents') birth place?

John bought his own land in Murray County. I've never found where he sold any of Jacob's land (though perhaps his descendants still own it).

One thing pointing to kinship between Old Jake and Polly Headrick and John "the Scot" Headrick is that John and Rhoda Headrick are found living with in one census. Also, there is a "John" among the heirs of old Jacob and Polly Headrick. More work needs to be done before you fully accept John "the Scot" Headrick.

John and Rhoda do live in the household of our Headricks as a young married couple. Surely this indicates kinship? [Ref. I think it's the 1870 census, with William and Mary (Emert) Headrick. Doublecheck!]

According to E.C. Caylor, his "great-grandpa, John Scott Headrick, did not participate in the Civil War. He said he didn't want to fight his neighbors, so he hid out in the mountains until the war was over." [p.390]

Notes for HENRY HILL HEADRICK:

Henry had an old blacksmith shop at Cisco (where Clayton's Store was later). And up the road a ways, Letch Headrick had a garage. Letch's daddy was cousin (?) to W.A.L. and Henry Headrick. (source: Fred T. Pritchett, 11 June 2000. He couldn't remember Letch's father's name. Originally, I had understood him to say "Leech and Letch," but there was only Letch. I haven't discovered, yet, which Headrick bore this nickname. I spoke to a couple of other Cisco residents, who knew of him only as "Letch," also).

Marriage Notes for HENRY HEADRICK and MARTHA DUNN:

They had a boy named "Ed." Could Ed be a nickname? Neither Trent Swilling nor Fred Pritchett named Lester as a son of this couple, but I found Lester in the Death Index and it listed Henry and Josie as his parents.

Notes for HARRIET A. HALL:

Possibly, Harriet is buried at Liberty Baptist Church Cemetery in Tenna, Murray Co., Georgia. Other Halls are buried there, and Jacob, her husband, is buried near the Halls. Jacob's grave is in a large space, presumably surrounded by many unmarked graves. There are also some very old field-stone markers in the rows behind Jacob's grave. Columbus Hall and wife are buried near Jacob. Their stone is of a more modern design than nearby stones.

Children of JACOB HEADRICK and HARRIET HALL are:

- i. WILLIAM H.<sup>3</sup> HEADRICK, b. Oct 1862, Georgia; d. Aft. 1910, ? possibly near Cullman, Ala. ?; m. (1) GEORGIA ???; b. 1874, Georgia; m. (2) FLORENCE ???, 1896; b. Nov 1876, Georgia; d. Bet. 1900 - 1980, ? Alabama ?.

Notes for WILLIAM H. HEADRICK:

Searches for William H. Headrick of Alabama turned up two results:

William Headrick married Florence. Has a sister named Cordelia. That fits very well. His birth year kind of looks like 1869 and is indexed as such, but comparing the other digits made by the census taker, I think it could easily be 1862, which fits.

There's another William Headrick who married Georgia ???. I don't know if the name could be Georgia Florence ??? or if these records are incorrect. This family group is highly speculative. I can't find that William ever had children. If he had, some death certificates might turn up to help with this record.

Possibly, Georgia is a second wife of William H. Headrick. There's another W.H. Headrick in Etowah, Cox Co., Alabama, in 1900, whose wife is named Florence.
